

111

4019

Eight engravings from the series The Pacification of the Gurkhas (depicting scenes from campaigns when the Gurkhas from Nepal invaded Tibet and the Emperor Qianlong sent his troops to drive them out in 1792) -- 21½in. x 35½in. (54.6cm. x 90.2cm.), 1795-96

Price Realized (Set Currency)

£21,600

($40,414)

Price includes buyer's premium

Estimate

£5,000 - £8,000

($9,355 - $14,968)

Sale Information

Sale 4019

The Andrew Franklin Collection Of

Asian Art

10 May 2006

London, South Kensington

ENLARGE

Lot Description

Eight engravings from the series The Pacification of the Gurkhas (depicting scenes from campaigns when the Gurkhas from Nepal invaded Tibet and the Emperor Qianlong sent his troops to drive them out in 1792) -- 21½in. x 35½in. (54.6cm. x 90.2cm.), 1795-96

1. The conquering of Girong (No. 3)
2. The conquering of Jiabula (No. 5)
3. The conquering of Makeerxiaerjia (No. 2)
4. The conquering of Dongjue Mountain (No. 6)
5. The conquering of the Rasua Bridge (No. 4)
6. The conquering of Palanggu (No. 7)
7. The conquering of Zamu (No. 1)
8. The Gurkhas envoy travelling to the capital (No. 8)

Each with a letter detailing in French the events illustrated in the accompanying engraving. (8)

Special Notice

No VAT will be charged on the hammer price, but VAT at 15% will be added to the buyer's premium which is invoiced on a VAT inclusive basis.

Department Information

Indian & Southeast Asian Art